Congress of the United States
Washington, DC 20515

July 22, 2024

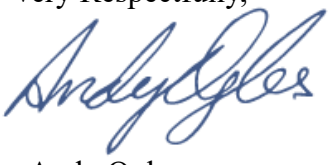
The Honorable James Michael "Mike" Johnson
Speaker
U.S. House of Representatives
H-232, the Capitol
Washington, D.C. 20515

Dear Speaker Johnson,

Following an egregious break in the public trust, Secret Service Director Kimberly Cheatle appeared before the House Committee on Oversight and Accountability today to assuage concerns regarding the Secret Service's failure to keep President Trump safe on July 13, 2024. Instead of addressing bipartisan concerns, she evaded nearly every question she was asked.

It's clear that Director Cheatle remains incapable of seeing the writing on the wall. Both Republicans and Democrats have called for her removal, and it is imperative that steps be taken to regain the confidence of the People. When President Reagan was shot by a disturbed assailant more than forty years ago, the Director of the Secret Service voluntarily resigned; Director Cheatle should follow suit. If she will not resign, Congress must immediately take up legislation to force her removal.

Very Respectfully,



Andy Ogles
Member of Congress
